Resica Falls Camp Breaks Site Ground

GROUND was broken for the first campsite at the huge new Philadelphia Area Boy Scouts Reservation at Resica Falls Saturday.

The reservation contains 4,100 acres. It will be used by Scouts from Philadelphia, Delaware and Montgomery Counties when it has been completed. It will have eight sites for camping.

Taking part in the Saturday ceremony were John Curtin Jr., Philadelphia, chairman of the joint camp federation of Valley Forge and Philadelphia Scout Councils; Stewart Walker, vice president of the Philadelphia Council; Roger S. Firestone, Pottstown, Valley Forge Council president; and Philip Sharples, vice president of Valley Forge Council.

Camping Sites

Officials expect the first of the camping sites to be ready by next Summer for use of Scouts from the three-county area. The camp will accommodate 2,000 Scouts at a time.

Doing most of the "work" at the ground-breaking ceremonies were an estimated 70 Explorer Scouts. They served as a color guard. In addition another 700 Explorers worked on what officials termed "Operation Trail Blazer"—a project which consisted of clearing land, planting trees, preparing trout pools and building earth dams along the banks of Bushkill Creek, bordering the camp.

Duff Lashes Out At Democrats

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21 (AP)—U. S. Sen. James H. Duff lashed out at the Democratic party's top campaigners over the weekend for "the wickedest campaign of falsehood, misrepresentation, half truths and appeal to prejudice in my recollection."

And he saved his biggest oratorical guns for his opponent, Joseph S. Clark, in the race for Duff's Senate seat, calling Clark a "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

In a speech for a Republican rally at the New Century Club here yesterday, Duff accused his opponent of "Demagoguery," adding:

"First he has been prattling about the small business man. I am a member of the Senate committee on small business. I think I know more about the small businessman and his problems than Mrs. Clark."

Duff said Clark imposed a three mill tax on small businessmen in Philadelphia while he was mayor of the Quaker City and attacked Clark for supporting "the ruinous tax proposals" of Gov. Lehigh.

In other statements by GOP candidates over the weekend:

George I. Bloom, state party chairman, said Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for president, and Clark have based their campaigns on "hypocritical nonsense."

The GOP candidate for Auditor General, state Rep. Charles C. Smith, said Leader's appointment of Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen to the State Supreme Court was "a grandstand play made for political purposes."

And state Rep. Robert F. Kent, candidate for State Treasurer, asked Leader to explain what Kent said was a delay in the purchase of Salk antipoli vaccine by the Commonwealth.

In his Philadelphia speech, Duff said Clark misrepresented Duff's Senate voting record—one of the Democrat's prime issues in the gubernatorial contest—with "clever and crooked innuendo."

Duff said campaign speeches by Clark, Stevenson, former President Harry Truman, and U. S. Sen. Estes Kefauver, Democratic candidate for vice president, were "half-truths."

Clark Labels Foe Guilty Of 'Huckstering'

By Leonard Randolph

JOSEPH S. CLARK, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, accused his opponent of "huckstering" in a "barefaced attempt to get votes among the people of Monroe County" yesterday.

Clark made the statement to a Daily Record reporter who had asked for his comment on a pre-election pledge by Sen. Duff, GOP incumbent, that he would try to secure "non-interest bearing" loans for certain segments of the county.

"I am sure that the people of Monroe County were as pleased as I was to hear that Sen. Duff intends to secure 'non-interest bearing' loans for the area hit last year by one of the worst floods in Pennsylvania history," Clark said, adding:

"I hope it will not take as long for him to do this as it took for him to visit the area itself. And I would caution my friends in Monroe County that the Junior Senator has a long record of election year promises that never came to anything. I, therefore, hope that this time he keeps his word."

"I deplore the practice that he has repeatedly engaged in of making grand-stand plays during the course of an election campaign in areas of Pennsylvania distressed by unemployment, floods, depleted farms or worked-out mines. He did this in the coal areas in 1954; it appears he is doing it in Monroe County now."

Question

"I would like to know why he has waited so long to take any action."

"Except for his vague assertion that he had 'flooded over' the flood-damaged area shortly after the August, 1955 disaster, Duff seems to have forgotten entirely about Monroe County from that time to this."

"Certainly he did nothing in the Senate of the United States during the six years he served there. The only public bills which he ever introduced that became law — and there are only four of them — have nothing to do with flood control, or, for that matter, with anything else of any importance to the State of Pennsylvania."

"While serving as Mayor of Philadelphia I helped found and was, of course, a member of the Delaware River Basin Survey Committee. I am still a member of that organization. Now known as the Delaware River Basin Advisory Committee, it is deeply concerned with the problems of the Upper Delaware River Basin and its tributaries — including Brodheads Creek and all the other streams in the Monroe County area."

Reference

Referring to Yugoslav President Tito, the nominee said:

"Titoism is contagious. The Polish struggle for national independence is a big step toward freedom for Poland from its Russian masters. But this is only a substitution of Communist masters."

"Even so, Polish independence of Moscow is a long step toward deliverance of the Polish people from communism."

"With imagination and ingenuity this country and the free world should be able to help this process."

"I do not believe that in the long run the Polish people will ever submit to foreign domination in any form."

United States In Airlift

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Oct. 21 (AP)—The United States has been airlifting hundreds of tons of materials and scores of men to the U. S. Antarctic expedition main base on the Ross Sea ice shelf.

The first Globemaster, with a cargo of 18 passengers, left yesterday afternoon, following by a second soon after dawn today with 40 passengers. Two more also left today.

Ike Accuses Bulganin Of Meddling

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower today accused Soviet Premier Bulganin of meddling in the American election campaign.

He said Bulganin's H-bomb letter seemingly attacked "my own sincerity," and contained a statement "personally offensive to me."

This sharp language—the strongest ever used by Eisenhower in a communication to the Soviet leader—marked a reply by the President to a letter in which Bulganin urged an agreement to halt H-bomb tests.

Shortly after the White House made the correspondence public, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California called on Adlai Stevenson to "repudiate the unwarranted interference of Premier Bulganin . . . in our free American elections."

Knowland

Knowland said the Democratic presidential candidate, who has been advocating efforts to agree on an early end to H-bomb testing, should act "in the interests of Americans presenting a united front."

There was no immediate comment on this from Stevenson. But before seeing Eisenhower's reply to Bulganin, Stevenson put out a statement in Chicago which said "the White House seems to have dismissed the Russian offer out of hand."

Stevenson acted after a statement last night by White House press secretary James Hagerty which termed the Bulganin letter "a propaganda exercise rather than a serious attempt to achieve understanding between heads of state."

Although Eisenhower's letter to the Soviet chief began with a note of rebuke, it said the United States is "not discouraged" in its quest for disarmament.

In fact, Eisenhower said he was accepting Bulganin's letter, rather than returning it to the Russian Embassy, "not because I am tolerant of these departures from accepted international practices, but because I still entertain the hope that direct communication between us may serve the cause of peace."

Churchill Hit With Cold

NICE, France, Oct. 21 (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill's physician said today the former Prime Minister is suffering from a "common cold" and will be restricted to his room for two or three days.

Dr. James M. Roberts of Monte Carlo, who has been attending the ailing, 81-year-old British statesman, told reporters the illness "is nothing to worry about."

Blue Streak

Anybody See Zeek Around East Stroudsburg?

IF YOU SEE something go by like a light blue streak today, don't rub your eyes — it's probably true.

And if it is true, it's also probably a parakeet. His name is "Zeke". And, as of 2:30 yesterday afternoon, he was "out on the town."

Happened like this:

"Zeke" belongs to Terry Dailey, 14 of 67 Ananionk St., East Stroudsburg. Ordinarily "Zeke" leads a quiet, pastoral life in a cage or around the Chauncey Dailey home.

Talks a great deal. Doesn't swear. Always has a kind word to say to most people. Whistles for the dog. That sort of stuff.

Jordan Voters Elect House Of Parliament

AMMAN, Jordan, Oct. 21 (AP)—Jordan's voters today elected a new House of Parliament expected to reflect a rise in anti-Western sentiment across this desert kingdom.

Campaign posters calling for establishment of a purely Moslem state competed with banners demanding a swing to socialism as about half the 400,000 registered voters filed quietly through the polling booths. The voting was light but orderly.

The Interior Ministry said definitive results in the race of 144 candidates for the 40 seats in the House were not expected before Monday morning. The 20-man Senate is not involved. Young King Hussein appoints the senators.

Extremist calls for the abrogation of Jordan's defense alliance with Britain, which provides for British financing of the Jordanian army, and even cancellation of American Point Four aid marked the election campaigning.

Only Men

Only men vote in Jordan, an Arab nation of 1,400,000 situated between Israel and oil-rich Saudi Arabia.

In this capital, small boys handed out leaflets supporting various candidates. Many of these junior politicians were backing Dr. Abdul Rahman Shukair, a leftist who is imprisoned for security reasons.

Other youths passed out leaflets endorsing candidates of the Moslem Brotherhood, who want to establish a state based on the principles of the Koran, the Moslem Bible.

Police cars patrolled the streets, broadcasting calls to the men to vote, but asking them to leave their weapons at home.

The imprisoned Shukair is one of two candidates who campaigned from jail cells. The other is Judeh Shahwan of Bethlehem. Both ran as candidates of the extreme left National Bloc. This bloc includes an avowed Communist, Dr. Yacoub Ziadin of the old city of Jerusalem, who is rated by some Jordanian politicians as a sure winner.

Strength of the National Bloc and several other anti-Western parties is attributed to a widespread bitterness of the Arab public toward the West on the Palestine issue. The general feeling here is that the West backs Israel, which has made Jordan a target of several destructive raids this fall, while Soviet Russia is a source of arms for the Arabs.

Hungarian Students Issue Ultimatums To Red Officials

BUDAPEST, Oct. 21 (AP)—Thousands of students in three Hungarian universities issued ultimatums to Communist authorities today. They said they would conduct street demonstrations unless their demands for more freedom and better living conditions for the whole country are granted within 14 days.

The ultimatums came from students in Budapest's University of Technology and the Universities of Szeged and Pecs, two south Hungarian cities near the Yugoslav frontier.

These were the latest and most dramatic developments in a rebellious movement that has been spreading through the universities, trade schools and even high schools of Communist-ruled Hungary in the wake of a new spirit of freedom that followed de-Stalinization.

The Communist control organizations don't appear to be opposing the rebels' demands. They publicly acknowledge many demands are justified and only deplore threats of strikes and demonstrations on the ground that these might be "misused by dangerous elements."

The threats of street demonstrations followed yesterday's action by 2,000 students of Szeged University who walked out of the Communist youth organization DISZ to establish an independent youth union.

In Hungary—which appears to be following right behind Poland in the pace of its de-Stalinization and demands for national independence—the students have dramatically taken the lead.

They are not only demanding more freedom and improved living conditions for themselves, but for the whole country. Fifteen demands listed in their ultimatums included such points as: complete freedom of the press, abolition of the death penalty, permission to make trips to Western countries.

Herman had wired the White House asking Eisenhower to "set forth the excellent record of your administration" and contrast it with those of Democratic administrations "and with the doubtful promises of your opponent."

Eisenhower's reply noted there are now about 4 1/2 million independent business units, mostly small ones, in the country. This is an increase of more than one-third since the start of World War II, he said, "and the number is growing rapidly."

The number of independent businesses increased more in 1955 than in any year since 1918, he said, and the profits of small manufacturing corporations rose both last year.

Yesterday afternoon "Zeke" — I've many a winged critter afore him — got a yen for the wide open spaces. In this case, the Dailey back yard. Result: "Zeke" takes off through a convenient window.

Around dark Mr. Dailey spotted the pale blue bird in a limb of a tree in the yard. He climbed part way up, tried to coax "Zeke" down. Didn't work. "Too smart for me," said Dailey.

Night came. "Zeke" was still among the missing. Soooooo — If you see a blue streak zip past you today, look twice, yell "Zeke" and — if he answers — tell him to go home.

Gomulka Elevated In Major Victory

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 21 (AP)—Polish Communists shook up the powerful politburo tonight, ousting Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky and other Stalinists and raising nationalist Wladyslaw Gomulka to leadership.

The party Central Committee announced the elevation of Gomulka — once purged as a Titoist — to the key post of first secretary after three days of intense Soviet pressure punctuated by reported clashes between Polish and Soviet troops. Warsaw was quiet tonight.

It was a sweeping victory for Gomulka, who issued a virtual declaration of independence from Moscow in a fiery speech to the Central Committee yesterday.

It was bitter defeat for Rokossovsky installed by Stalin as Poland's defense minister. He may lose his defense post in a government shakeup arising from the party action.

Sources

Authoritative sources said he may be succeeded by Gen. Wladyslaw Komar, himself imprisoned for three years as a Titoist. Komar is a former Polish general staff officer. He was freed last spring.

Other Communist quarters, however, thought Rokossovsky presently may keep the defense ministry.

A thorough shakeup of the Polish government in line with the party leadership was expected within days, however.

In streamlining the politburo from 11 to 9 members, the party committee kicked out three deputy premiers and Franciszek Mazur, vice-president of Poland, in addition to Rokossovsky.

Tension eased in Warsaw as fears of an armed coup d'etat by the Stalinist faction subsided.

Reports of armed clashes between Polish and Russian troops in the Polish countryside, especially on the Polish-East German frontier, were difficult to confirm.

Throughout the day thousands of resolutions supporting Gomulka and his independent policy poured into party headquarters in the Polish capital.

They included one from the Warsaw military academy declaring Poland's army "stands by its oath to the people and socialism and strongly opposes any attempt to drive a wedge between the army and the people."

The resolution also denounced "anti-intellectualism and anti-semitism."

Three State Hunters Killed

By The Associated Press

THE opening of the 1956 Pennsylvania small game hunting season added three fatalities to the list of accidental deaths in the state during the period ended at midnight last night.

Eleven other persons died in automobile accidents and six died in miscellaneous accidents to bring the weekend total to 19.

The first hunting death reported was that of Glenn M. Miller, 16, Edinboro, R.D. 1, who was shot by another hunter near Marlinton, Forest County, Saturday.

Near Harrisburg, a Shippensburg boy, Larry P. Martin, 15, accidentally shot himself. And another 15-year-old, George E. Robinson of Donnan, R.D. 1, was shot to death when a revolver he was twirling went off.

Former Soviet Official Shoots Intruder

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Victor A. Kravchenko, a former Russian official who defected to the West, today admitted he was the Peter Martin who shot an intruder in his East Side apartment last night.

Kravchenko said Soviet agents have made repeated attempts to kill him since he sought asylum here in 1944 and wrote the book "I Chose Freedom." He views strangers with suspicion.

That's why, he said, he reached for his gun when two young men got into an altercation with him at the door of his apartment, pushed their way in and started to beat him.

Errors

Police said it was a chain of errors leading from the ringing of the wrong doorbell by the pair. The two men, meaning to visit another apartment, rang Kravchenko's bell.

When they reached the second floor where he has his apartment, he asked them what they wanted. Angry words and the brawl in Kravchenko's apartment ensued.

No charges were placed against Kravchenko. Police said they were satisfied he acted in self defense. He had a permit for the gun.

Kravchenko complained to newsmen he would have to find a new apartment now that his pseudonym as Peter Martin has been revealed.

"I never have looked for publicity," he said. "I want Kravchenko to die. I am an American citizen and I want to lead a new life."

He gained citizenship through a special act of Congress.

TV Party In Danger

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Democratic party's cross-country, closed-circuit TV party last night was in danger of being called off two days earlier, reportedly because of cost and other factors.

Theater Network Television, Inc., the firm that was to have set up the closed circuit, canceled its contract 48 hours before party time. It said the Democratic National Committee "failed to meet its obligations under the contract."

At the last minute, Sheraton Closed Circuit TV, Inc., was pressed into service.

$30,000 Damage Caused By Dingmans Ferry Lumber Fire

Building Destroyed On Route 209

By Mrs. G. E. Irvine

DINGMANS FERRY — Fire of undetermined origin flared through part of Delaware Lumber Co. near here early yesterday morning causing an estimated $30,000 in damage and loss.

The lumber company is located on Route 209 three miles south of Dingmans Ferry. Discovery of the fire was made at about 2:30 a.m. yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence DePue, Bushkill.

The DePues were on their way home from Port Jervis when they saw the building in flames. DePue stopped his car and went to the home of the lumber company's owner, Jackson E. McCann.

McCann lives about 100 yards from the lumber company buildings. When he awakened, McCann said later, "it looked as though the whole mountain was on fire."

Alarms were turned in to the Milford and Dingmans Ferry (Delaware Township) fire companies. Both companies arrived "within a matter of minutes," McCann said.

New Company — For the Dingmans Ferry company, the triumph over the early morning blaze was a double triumph in which firemen overcame some heavy odds. It is a new company with no alarm-sounding equipment. All members had to be notified by phone.

McCann credited "quick and efficient action" by the firemen with saving an adjacent building. This was a two-story structure used for storage and as a garage.

The building section which was destroyed by flames was a double-level structure. On one side it was an open shed which contained stacks of lumber stock. On the other side it was a two-story structure containing large quantities of seasoned lumber, paint and roofing supplies.

Observers said that the fire had apparently burned for some time before the DePues discovered it. When firemen arrived on the scene they concentrated all their efforts on saving the adjoining warehouse and other buildings. They were completely successful, McCann said.

Handle Earnest is chief of the Milford Fire Co. The new Dingmans Ferry company is headed by Lucien Locke.

The local company was formed just a year ago. Delivery of the unit's two engines was made only about two weeks ago.

The company has no siren. Because of this chief Locke and his assistants had to notify all company members by telephone when the alarm came in.

A new building which will house fire company equipment is now being started.

OFF MIKE

by Joe Whalen

A palpitating beat, for the dogged hearts of radio, was sounded last week in the column of Joseph Kaselow, writer for the N. Y. Herald Tribune. Kaselow quoted a survey made by the Cunningham and Walsh advertising agency that showed viewers are watching from one to three hours less of television in an average week; that newspaper reading has never been materially affected by TV and that radio listening climbed back in the past five years; severely affected by television, has slowly but steadily years. Several reasons have been offered for the decline in television watching. . . . increase in social activities, more attendance at sports events, a tiring of some long running programs and a tendency to be more selective about which programs to watch. But, what about this steady increase in radio listening?

It's been our opinion here for sometime that each media has its audience and, in many cases, these same media draw from the same audience, but at different times of the day or week. Yet, as the survey points out, radio listening is picking up. . . . and this is how it should be. The novelty of television has worn off in many homes; people are watching only what they want, not just watching to watch. We in radio have to be cognizant of this transition and ever aware of keeping our programming up to the minute.

What this survey means to you, a listener, here in the Poconos, probably amounts to not a hill of beans. However, there is this in it for you: at WYPO we try to keep our finger on what the radio listener wants and when he wants it. If more are coming back to radio, we have to have the good programming that will satisfy these nomadic listeners and, maybe, keep them for a spell. What it boils down to is a constant effort here to give the best within our capacity.

And, by the way, prospective advertisers might have more than a routine interest in the results of the agency survey.

Program Notes. . . . with baseball over for another season, it's music all afternoon from 1:05 to 5:30. . . . next Saturday's "Game Of The Week" will feature Pen Argyl at Wilson Boro. . . . on Sunday, the Eagles play the Giants in N.Y. at 2:00. . . . next Sunday's church service will be heard from the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church in Stroudsburg at 11:00. . . . standard time comes back at 2:00 a.m. next Sunday which puts our sign off at 5:15. . . . be sure to hear Taylor's split shift daily, from 7:15 to 8:00 and again from 8:35 to 9:00.

Two Injured As Panel Truck Upsets

TOBYHANNA — Two New York City residents were injured yesterday when a panel truck overturned and caught fire on Route 611, six miles north of Mount Pocono.

The driver, Samuel Golding, 69, suffered abrasions of the left elbow, while 53-year-old Fannie Golding received contusions of the head and left ankle. They were treated at the scene by Dr. E. O. Headrick of Mount Pocono.

Another passenger, Bernard Golding, 34, escaped injury. State Police reported.

Version

Troopers gave this version of the mishap:

Golding, a New York merchant, was traveling north on Route 611 in a 1949 panel truck. He applied his brakes when a car in front of him came to a stop.

As he applied the brakes, the truck swerved to the left and overturned. Then it caught fire in the center of the highway.

The blaze was extinguished by the Coolhaugh Township Fire Department.

The truck, valued at some $900, was completely demolished and about $300 damage was caused to some electrical equipment which Golding was carrying.

Investigating Troopers were Robert Latzo, John Kinsel and James Horan.

Community Chest 'Kickoff' Dinner Tonight

Rev. Campbell To Deliver Key Address

TONIGHT at the Penn-Stroud Hotel the 1956 Community Chest campaign gets its official "kick-off" with a dinner honoring the memory of the late Gerald P. O'Neill.

Main speaker for the program will be Rev. Ernest Campbell, former pastor of Stroudsburg First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Campbell is now pastor of a large church in York.

The O'Neill Memorial Dinner is being given this year for the second time. It was initiated last year by Mr. O'Neill's widow and members of the Penn-Stroud Hotel board of directors to honor the late hotel owner-manager.

Guiding Force

During his career as a local hotel owner, O'Neill was one of the guiding forces in maintaining the Community Chest as a potent force within Monroe County. Each year he personally supervised a dinner for campaign workers as part of his contribution to the welfare drive.

This year's Chest dinner is expected to provide a dynamic spark for workers in all areas of the county. Rev. Campbell is widely known throughout the county and established a reputation locally as a guest speaker with imaginative and forceful delivery.

Workers will be the guests of Mrs. O'Neill and the hotel again this year. In addition to the key speech there will be brief talks on campaign methods and orientation by M. S. Baldwin, Chest president.

This year's campaign is being managed by a committee rather than the customary single campaign chairman.

Salvation Army Reaches $6,000 Mark

PEN ARGYL—Division chairman of the Salvation Army's annual drive for funds in the State Belt and Nazareth area yesterday announced that income to date from industry, retail, rural, and clubs and associations make up approximately 38.5 per cent of the Army's campaign goal of $6,000.

Additional income from these sources as well as the added income from the residential drives presently being conducted in Bangor, Nazareth and Pen Argyl should increase the hopes of reaching this year's goal, it was announced.

Reports

Reports show Nazareth as having reached 49 per cent of its $2,000 goal; Bangor, 14 per cent of its $1,800 goal, and Pen Argyl, 54 per cent of its $1,800 goal. Canvassing is being conducted in Wind Gap and Portland, but no returns as yet have been made possible for reporting.

The campaign is expected to continue through Nov. 1. Anyone not being contacted but desiring to give may send gifts direct to the Army's headquarters at 301 W. Main St., Pen Argyl.

Perfect Day For ESSTC Homecoming

IT WAS ALMOST a perfect day for "coming home."

The leaves on the trees at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College had turned deep, dark golden brown and luminous bright red. All along the campus walks the concrete was well padded with rapidly-falling leaves.

Even if the weatherman had filled a specific order, he could hardly have done better by the returning alumni. There were clouds in the sky, but they were more like the soft clouds of memory than the ominous prelude to a storm.

It was warm, too. Chilly enough to require jackets or sweaters; warm enough to eat hot dogs without gloves (try it sometime, with mustard); moderate enough for an "activity" filled day which ran the gamut from social teas to top-heavy football victory.

More than 300 men and women who call ESSTC their alma mater showed up for the 1956 homecoming. On all fronts it looked and sounded like a resounding success. Things got off to a reminiscent start at 10 a. m. with registration, (said one old-timer: "This is almost like going back to college again"). On hand to greet alumni in the flesh were members of the college faculty, present-day students and some faculty wives during the day.

The campus newspaper "Stroud Courier" was in there pitching, too, with a special edition honoring graduates on "homecoming day." Besides its quota of current news the paper had a couple of photos from the past—a soccer team and a group of cheerleaders. Visitors were invited to figure out who the faces in the photographs belonged to. (English teachers please note.)

The college had a full day planned for the visitors, too. There was a field hockey game in the morning. There was a water pageant featuring three original water ballets, fancy diving, races and "original comic skit."

Ballerinas in the formal portion of the show were: Nancy Afflerbach, Susan Bright, Kathleen Focht, Sylvia Henderson, Betty Lou Kozik, Barbara Mann, Susan Maulsby, Jean Miller, Peggy Richards, Gloria Schissler, Ruth Bahjeian, Pat Cargill, Sylvia Dalmeyer, Shirley Elgeway, Pat Morinko, Mary McGraw, Virginia Quinn, Janet Stewart, Mary Sue Harvey, Joan Schorr, Dorothy Gruss, Sandra Stadler and Christine Whytock.

Expert divers who gave an exhibition of their skill during the show were Marjorie Spillane, Bill Ormiston, Mary Ann Comilla, Tom Spillane, and Richard Black.

Then the clowns took over. For the fast and furious "funny ending," Katherine Griffith, water pageant director had chosen a team made up of "Mickey" Spillane, Mac Whitenight, William Givens, Larry Harding, Bill Ormiston, Joseph Rogers, Jerry Sharkey, Roy Snyder, and LeRoy Spencer. They "bowed off" to rousing applause.

But the highest "highlight" of the day was, without doubt, the ESSTC-Mansfield football game. The score was lopsided (42-13 in favor of the locals) but the game kept most of the Homecoming Day fans excited and happy.

So how does it feel to go back

SUCCESSFUL CHEST — Main speaker at this year's Community Chest kickoff dinner, tonight at Penn-Stroud Hotel ballroom, will be The Rev. Ernest Campbell, former pastor of Stroudsburg First Presbyterian Church.

Salem Church Congregation Praised By Guest Speaker

GILBERT — Dr. James E. Wagner, president of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, paid tribute yesterday to the congregation of the Salem E-R Church for rebuilding its sanctuary and contributing year-by-year to the denomination's world-wide program.

Some 250 persons heard Dr. Wagner preach at both the morning and afternoon services which brought to a close special rites marking the 150th anniversary of Salem Church.

Morning

In the morning, Dr. Wagner noted the significance of the Holy Communion and the fact that it unites Christian people everywhere. In the afternoon, he emphasized the significance of the Evangelical and Reformed Church taking its place among the Christian Churches of the world.

Dr. Wagner noted that the denomination is related to such organizations as the National and World Council of Churches.

This fact has a direct significance for the local church, he added. Even the individual member is affected by these world-wide associations with other Christians.

The senior choir, under the direction of Harry Gruver, and young peoples choir, directed by Mrs. G. Robert Booth, presented special music at both services yesterday.

12 Community Chest Agencies Call For Support In $74,757 Drive

An old adage tells us, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Residents of Monroe County once more are being given the opportunity to avail themselves of that greater blessing as the public phase of this year's Community Chest campaign swings into motion tonight.

Hundreds of volunteer workers will be asking you to give your share of $74,757 so that 12 worthy charity organizations can meet their minimum requirements in the year ahead.

Not only do you get the greater blessing of giving this way, but you do it in the simplest manner — by supporting 12 agencies in one drive.

President Eisenhower has stressed the high purposes served by the organizations which are financed through Community Chest and United Fund campaigns.

"I believe each of us also realizes that we and our families are benefited by these programs," the President emphasized. "So I am sure that when the volunteer worker knocks at your door and heart, and asks you to sign a pledge for the United Community campaigns, you will join me with a three-word answer, 'Yes, I will.'"

Governor Leader, in urging fellow Pennsylvanians to support their local funds, said, "Were it not for the way we donate to these charitable organizations, the state's cost of providing these services would amount to an additional $38,000,000."

"Yet here we are individually contributing that sum out of our pockets—to practice charity, the quality which in the moral fiber of every human being is the uppermost virtue."

If everyone in Monroe County will "give until it feels good," the Community Chest will oversubscribe its goal with no trouble. Remember, each donation helps not just one agency, but 12. Give your share today!

Candidates Campaign For Vote Blocs In Key States Including Pennsylvania

Outcome of the November 6 election hinges to a great extent on a few pivotal states and the closing weeks of the 1956 campaign will witness a stepped-up drive for votes in all of those doubtful areas.

Pennsylvania, with its 32 electoral votes, is one of the states where increased electioneering can be expected. Only New York, with 45 votes in the Electoral College, and California, also with 32, rate with Pennsylvania.

When President Eisenhower made personal appearances in Oregon, Washington and California late last week, he testified to the importance of the Pacific Coast in the elections.

Fast growing in population, these three states now cast 47 electoral votes. The Republicans need those votes in November for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

Moreover, these same states could easily determine the control of the 85th Congress. Each of them elects a senator and, together, they will send 41 members to the House of Representatives.

Older politicians recall that it was California which decided the presidential choice of 1916. Out of 925,000 cast that year, it returned a majority of less than 4,000 for Woodrow Wilson over Charles Evans Hughes. Thus he was returned to his second Democratic term.

The 47 electoral votes of the Pacific Coast states—together with the Senate and House seats—are much coveted. It was a well-defined purpose which took Mr. Eisenhower to the far coast.

George Sokolsky Says...

Falling Registration Figures Blamed On Lack Of Real Issues In Campaign

Where there is no system of permanent registration, the citizens seem, in spite of the efforts of politicians, to be apathetic toward the candidates.

No people can move too far from their traditions without confusion and chaos. The United States politically is a two-party country, parties which differ in principle and which contend over issues. Bipartisanship is not American historically and therefore runs counter to the character of the people. When there is no dispute, there is no interest and no enthusiasm.

It is for this reason that the party platform developed and the Resolutions Committee remains the most important committee at each convention, meeting over many days, listening to debates and representations. After the platform is passed by the convention, it is supposed to be binding upon the party and its candidates. But it is not binding upon anyone and is soon forgotten. Nevertheless, it is the basis for debate during the campaign and what the American people want is a debate. There has not been a debate on the foreign policy of the United States since 1932 and many voters are wondering why and many more feel that no matter which party is in office, the same faces are seen and the same policies are pursued.

There is more dissatisfaction in the land than the leadership of either party is prepared to admit. But the dissatisfaction is not a partisan attitude; it is not over issues. It is perhaps due to more than 20 years of excitement and prosperity which are both the Eisenhower boast and promise are calming, quieting attitudes after the New Deal and War and the Fair Deal and Give 'em Hell. Stevenson is attempting to re-awaken popular excitement with his H-bomb testing campaign but this is a lemon handed him by some adviser who never thought it out. Stevenson is now back to the 1946 Baruch-Acheson-Lillenthal plans.

In 1952, it was different. Eisenhower headed a crusade and many who had been with Roosevelt but had spurned Truman or had been spurned by him turned toward Eisenhower with an unparalleled enthusiasm. Curiously, even the Taft Republicans, led by Bob Taft, went out to work for Ike. In 1956, it is quiet, not because there is disappointment with Eisenhower or no confidence in Stevenson, but because there is no fight over anything.

In desperation for an idea, the Democrats are reviving the smear on Nixon, which will do no better today than it did a month ago. The Republicans have come up with nothing more startling than "I like Ike." So, you do. So do most people. But what about an argument, a little controversy, a battle over the tariff, or the debt, or taxes, or even Suez?

We are not alone in this moment of weakness. I listened to a little bit of a speech made by Sir Anthony Eden and how I wished that I might have been his ghost-writer. For Eden has a claim on the sympathy of the world. He risked his career because he had opposed Mussolini; he resigned his cabinet post because he had opposed appeasing Hitler when it was fashionable to appease Mussolini and Hitler. Did he remind the world that he was right when most people were wrong? Not he. He let the electric moment pass.

I cite this because most of the political speeches this year are not inspired documents. There is a dullness in the world—it is here; it seems to be everywhere except in Cairo where the new dictator flaunts his power and his new allies to the world.

Are people tired? Is that what has happened? Were they too tired to register? Are they too tired to think of what is happening to their country and their civilization? Have we become a nation of television watchers who sit in darkened rooms and look at others do things while we do nothing? It could be.

The Season's third quick casualty was "Double in Hearts," a heartbreaker for the players, producer and playwright. Born Tuesday, died Saturday.

Minor fruits of long rehearsals were shared by expert Maurice Evans, Signe Hasso and a cast of other capables. You never can tell. "The Best House in Naples" which was booted in Philly was boosted in Boston.

It was Hallelujah Week in the hinterlands. Judy Holiday's musical "Bells Are Ringing" was hailed as a ding-dong dilly in New Haven. Fairly Spoken By MARGARET LATROBE Sickness Is Bad Enough Without Spelling It Out

Physicians are hard-working hordes. And it follows that those in the Doc's employ must work correspondingly hard in order to keep the shop running smoothly.

Medical secretaries have it rough enough, running round on ailing customers, without compounding their troubles. They have hitherto summoned smiles, both for bad-tempered surgeons and sick folks. They have remained cheerful when either or both doctor and patient straggle into the office late for appointments.

But one difficulty peculiar to their jobs has become more than merely an occupational hazard. The spelling! In Oklahoma City a rapid turnover is reported among medical secretaries, who are expected to spell words like hepatocholangio-cystoduodenostomy!

If there be such ailments (which I am disposed to doubt) anybody suffering same ought to be in the hospital—not cluttering up the doctor's office. Were I engaged in typing medical histories and somebody showed up muttering "hep-hep," I wouldn't waste much time on any prose poems. I'd call an ambulance instantly!

The Oklahoma Medical Center is offering on-the-job classes in medical terminology in hopes of stemming the secretarial stampede toward jobs where everybody feels good. Or where they meet people with nothing more serious than lumbo. Though I salute such official efforts toward a 10-syllable spelling bee, my sympathies rest with the young ladies who figure that such spelling ability ought to pay more money.

TV is a shorter route to prosperity. The working girl who can spell 32-letter words can place high in a quiz show. Why waste such talent when she might reap the wild greenbacks on television?

Another side benefit from a network appearance is romance. Marriage proposals accrue by the fistful to presentable young ladies in television who, for all we know, spell cat with a "k." The doctor's office presents no such opportunities. The stenographer has no time for goo-goo eyes, confronted as she is with a notebook full of polysyllabic pains. Pal-a-tal, she types, while I amour flourish elsewhere.

It's enough to enjoy poor health without expecting a typist to enjoy writing it up. There must be an easier way of getting sick. A simpler means of practicing medicine. Let's all try to catch something like chicken pox. Instead of that hep-hep category. Otherwise the secretarial shortage may prevent our case histories being serialized.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

A faculty member of an upstate school, carried away by the fall fashion supplements, appeared for classes one morning wearing a spanking new hat with a cocky red feather tucked in the ribbon. His colleagues, dazzled and somewhat resentful, demanded that the dignified principal take action.

The best idea said dignified principal could come up with was to climb atop a pile of books on the table and secure the hat to the light fixture in the ceiling. He was still balancing himself in his precarious perch when the owner of the hat marched in. The principal blushed, and spluttered, "I suppose you'll be darn fool enough to think I did this!"

Robert S. Allen Reports

NATO Oil Pipeline Would Bypass Unfriendly Areas

Washington, Oct. 21—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) is taking a highly significant step to counter the war-threatening Suez Canal dilemma.

The Western defense alliance proposes to bring vitally needed Middle Eastern oil directly to Europe by means of a far-flung pipeline that will bypass Egypt, Syria, Lebanon and other "unfriendly areas."

Initially this huge project will reach from the Persian Gulf northward through Iraq and Turkey. Later the pipeline will be extended to the European mainland by an underwater link across the Adriatic Sea. Pending that, tankers will shuttle the oil from Turkey to the NATO allies.

Sources of this oil are Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Iran, Kuwait, and from other American, British and French holdings in this region.

Estimated cost of this back-stage project is upwards of $2,000,000,000.

Probable U. S. share is around $800,000,000. The remainder would come from the other NATO countries. Also very likely to participate in the financing are the big companies producing the oil.

The momentous plan is among the most urgent matters that will be considered by the NATO foreign ministers at their annual meeting in Paris in December.

In preparation for that, a detailed study of the project is being made by the Bechtel International Corp., a leading construction firm. Its survey deals with a 40-inch pipeline from Iraq, on the Persian Gulf, to Iskenderan, Turkish port on the Mediterranean.

At this yearly conference, the foreign ministers formulate NATO fiscal and other key policies.

Turkey is a member of NATO. Iraq is not. But both countries are allied with Britain in the Baghdad Pact, which also includes Iran and Pakistan. The U. S. does not belong to this alliance, but actively supports it through large-scale military and economic aid.

The U. S. also has mutual security treaties with all these nations.

American oil interests predominate in Saudi Arabia and Iran. The British are dominant in Iraq, and in some of the small oil-rich domains on the Persian Gulf and Arabian Sea.

State and Defense Department authorities stress that the far-flung pipeline would be a "NATO project." That is, it would be built and operated by NATO.

Its primary purpose would be military: to ensure an adequate supply of oil for the defense of Western Europe. This includes, of course, the continued economic development of Europe, as that is essential for its protection.

The proposed vast oil system is deemed entirely self-liquidating and self-supporting.

W construction is contemplated under the so-called "infrastructure program." This is a procedure by which the NATO allies jointly build all types of installations and developments for their common defense; such as air and naval bases, depots, training camps, radar facilities, warning networks and communications lines.

To date, the NATO countries have constructed more than $2,000,000,000 of "infrastructure" projects.

The U. S. share, voted by Congress, is approximately $800,000,000.

SPARKS—A Japanese firm submitted the lowest bid for the electrification of the Santiago-Chilean railway. The project includes 34 locomotives, 12 motor-electric cars, and 5 power substations.

Miami has been selected for the November 28-30 regional meeting of the President's Committee on the Rehabilitation and employment of the handicapped for the States of Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, and South Carolina. The Veterans Administration, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, Air Force and Navy and a number of leading concerns will have exhibits at this conference.

Belgium and Chile have signed an unusual treaty for them. Under it, their citizens can visit the two countries for a period up to three months with only an identification card.

The U. S. Army has approximately 100,000 veterans on its retired rolls. Chief Justice Earl Warren not only did considerable traveling last summer, but he also took off some weight. He slimmed down quite a bit and says he never felt better. The Californian certainly looks it.

Is Nasser On Way Out In Egypt?

WASHINGTON—Many Western diplomats in Washington—and even some envoys from Arab nations—believe that Gamal Abdel Nasser's days as president of Egypt are numbered.

Nasser, these sources insist, will be out even if the problem arising from his nationalization of the Suez canal is settled without further complications.

The Egyptian strong man's anti-Western attitude, most dramatically exemplified by his bombastic statements on the canal dispute and his steady drift toward close relations with Russia, has resulted in an ever tightening economic pinch.

This has displeased some of the most powerful backstage figures in Egypt, including the men of immense wealth who helped Nasser vault into his present dictatorial position, and who are now reported looking around for a suitable successor.

The United States, which once hoped to count on Nasser as a loyal friend, is believed quite content to see his star wane.

It's Nice To Sleep Soundly

By Jim Riley

Do you think you could sleep soundly through the night while your front porch was being torn off?

Well, according to a story passed on to this reporter there's a gentleman in Readers who did just that.

Here's how the tale was related to me:

On Thursday night a large truck was going down the hill near Readers hotel when one of its huge wheels broke off and crashed into the Johnson porch.

The wheel smashed most of the porch and undoubtedly made a lot of noise.

The noise awakened Mrs. Johnson and she told her husband that something had crashed into the porch. He acknowledged the remark and went back to sleep.

In the morning both surveyed the damage.

The driver of the truck undoubtedly didn't even miss the wheel, as it is still in Readers. The trucker probably didn't notice the absent wheel spot until sometime later.

Owner of the wheel may obtain same at the scene of the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gray, 118 W. Broad St. East Stroudsburg, watched son Dick in Saturday's football game at Princeton.

Colgate, where Dick is a student, opposed the Tigers in a freshman grid battle at the latter's Palmer Stadium. The contest took place at 11 a.m.

Speaking of football brings to mind the fact that "Rocky" Cinelli is seeing a lot of action on the forward wall for Wisconsin.

Cinelli is a graduate of Bangor High School.

Mrs. Robert Stadden, Tannersville, has been on the sick list in recent days.

Her many friends are hopeful of seeing Mrs. Stadden up and around again in the near future.

Al Schmidt, mixologist at Gap View Inn, is expecting a visit from Dick Gernett in the near future.

Dick is a combination outfielder-first baseman for the Boston Red Sox.

The Once Over

Bo or Adlai could get a lot of votes by coming out against the use of radio helmets for directing football plays.

Quiggle ranks with these two quarterbacks but does not appear to be the star he was before he was operated by dials and gizmos. He was self-reliant and resourceful last year, but since he put on a radio helmet he has seemed to depend too much on airwave programming.

Last Saturday he lost a game because he was not sure whether he was listening to his coach or to the Lassie program. At times he might have been calling plays on instructions from "Queen for a Day," we thought.

We fear the worst. Ultimately radio may take over the cheer leaders and somebody will introduce an IBM machine that will sing the college songs.

"Long Before I Knew You" and "Just in Time" from the new musical "The Bells Are Ringing" strike us as destined to be hummed all over the nation.

But the play needs a lot of fixing up so that Judy Holiday, its star, won't play it so "straight." Judy sprained her shoulder so badly at a rehearsal that she had to appear at the out-of-town opening with one arm in a sling.

Sydney Chaplin, son of Charlie, plays the male lead and is the image of his father when pop was a young comedian. Noel Coward is calling his new play "Nude With Violin."

We anticipate the following news on quarterbacks any week now:

"Lekkersnaffie is one of the finest quarterbacks in the game, if properly wired. He suffered from static interference in the last two games, however, and got nowhere with his team."

"Butterball is another top grid star when his radio is functioning, but his helmet has not been in good form lately and his eleven lost a close game, due to

The money in this charity fund is raised each year by the company's "Good Neighbor Day", during which four hours overtime work is provided for all employees who care to participate, and the six hours pay is put into the Charity Fund. This money is then distributed by an employee committee.

"Good Neighbor Day" this year was held on Oct. 6, and a total of 231 employees out of a possible 255 participated, or 90.5 percent. The pay for these participants, put into the fund, amounted to $2,985.00.

Hunters Warned Of Dry Woods

DISTRICT FORESTER E. CLAUDE PYLE said last night that no wood or brush fires have been reported thus far this fall.

However, Pyle warned that Monroe County's 350,000 acres of woodland are tinder dry, and hunters should use extreme caution, handling fires or cigarettes in wooded areas.

The district forester noted that although some rain fell over the weekend the woods still are dryer than they were either in the Spring or Summer.

Streams

Pyle called upon hunters to build any fires along streams or gravel banks. When no longer needed, water should be poured on the fires, and the ashes scattered. Then dirt should be placed over the remains.

Pyle reported that seven towns in the Monroe-Northampton-Pike counties area are being named.

The following are towns observed: Noel Adams, Buck Horn Edge near Milford; Clarence Gable, Dry Meadow near Dingmans Ferry; Louise Weber, High Knob near Peck's Pond; James Livesey, Dancing Ridge near Canadensis; Ann Shumaker, Delaware Water Gap; Esther Motta, Big Pocono, and Harrison Shutter, Pohoco near Long Pond.

Increase In Attendance

BANGOR—An increase in attendance was noted as the Evangelical preaching mission continued at the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church Thursday night. Rev. Homer Smith, of Bigler, guest speaker, had for his message "The Work Jesus Finished for Me."

Miss Norma Augenbach and Miss Kathryn Wallace were in charge of the children's work. They also offered instrumental and vocal selections. The Bible reading count brought the total to 62. Miss Carolyn LaBar was the organist. Clarence Luscombe and George Timmons were the ushers.

Friday night a fellowship pot luck dinner was held. Tomorrow at 9:30 a. m., there will be a combined service under the direction of Sons of Albrecht Class. Charles Buzzard, class president and assistant Sunday school superintendent, will be in charge. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Smith.

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks! Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

Here are the trucks that conquered the ALCAN Highway—one of the world's most challenging roads! Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B. C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail—every conceivable natural roadblock—to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours.

Like a carelessly unwound ribbon, the Alcan Highway twists and reels for 1,520 miles. It tumbles over towering mountains of awesome beauty and wanders through desolate Yukon forests.

It's the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgemothers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts jolt and jar each chassis unit.

This is the road that was chosen to give the new '57 Chevrolet trucks a supreme test of stamina, performance and handling ease. The results of that test made hauling history!

Six new Chevrolet trucks—representing light-, medium- and heavy-duty models—traveled the length of the Alcan highway in less than 45 hours. They ran day and night—but this was no test of speed. The Chevrolet Alcan fleet made normal stops, and maintained safe and legal speeds all the way. As a special additional test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

It's all down in the AAA record book. Never before has a new truck been so thoroughly proved. Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

FIRST WITH THE MOST MODERN FEATURES!

New 283-cubic-inch Taskmaster V8 delivers 160 high-torque horsepower. Standard in Series 5000, 7000 and 8000, optional in Series 6000 at extra cost. Horsepower ranges up to 210 in Chevrolet's complete line-up of modern V8 and 6 truck engines.

Revolutionary Powermatic Transmission—exclusive with Chevrolet trucks—is an extra-cost option in Series 5000 and 6000 and all heavy-duty truck models. Hydra-Matic is offered in 3000 and 4000 Series models at extra cost.

L.C.F. models outdate the C.O.E. because they're lower, hand-somer, easier to get into and out of, and save time in routine engine maintenance. Yet they offer all C.O.E. advantages.

Heavyweight Champs with Triple-Torque tandem are rated at 32,000 lbs. GVW, 50,000 GCW. And Chevrolet's advanced tandem axle unit offers a built-in three-speed power divider.

The Chevrolet Alcan run was sanctioned and official results certified—by the AAA.

Proved on the Alcan Highway . . . CHEVROLET Champs of every weight class!

Alcan fleet reports up to 18.17 miles per gallon! That's the mileage reported by the Cameo Carrier, with Thriftmaster 6 and Overdrive (optional at extra cost).

All the way in DRIVE range with Powermatic! This Powermatic-equipped 10000 Series tractor traveled the Alcan Highway in a single forward-speed range!

New Super Taskmaster V8 flattens Yukon mountains! This Series 5000 truck with its new 283-cubic-inch V8 climbed towering grades with ease.

Church, School, Community On Panel On Sex Education

Barrett—Recognizing a need for proper sex education, the Barrett Township PTA held a panel discussion at its meeting last week, with Rev. Harold MacMurray, pastor of the Mountainhome Methodist Church; Justin Feltham, biology teacher at the school; Walter Meinikoff, PTA president, and Dr. Harold Tattersall, Mountainhome, members of the panel, with George Webb, principal, acting as moderator.

Following a film which showed how a teacher in a school in a metropolitan area introduced a knowledge of sex to first grade students, Mrs. David Nelson, program chairman, turned the discussion period over to Mr. Webb, moderator.

Rev. Harold MacMurray presented the attitude of the Christian church in relation to sexual education of children. He said that "all churches recognize that sex is a natural part of life intended by God, and that its proper adjustment is necessary for a full life." He pointed out that "much of the embarrassment surrounding discussion of sex in the home today is due to an ancient tradition in primitive religion in which immoral sex relations were encouraged as part of the religion, and even proper marital relations became suspected. With the development of monogamy, much of this disappeared, but traces are still found in the thinking of people."

Positive Approach
"The church of today recognizes that it is a matter which has been held back too long and that it is an ordinary, natural part of life, and the best rules and regulations on the subject are in the Christian religion, namely, that to have pure-minded children, parents must have pure minds themselves."

"In teaching children, put emphasis on a positive thinking, speak not only in physical characteristics of the production of children, but speak of the wonderful fact that God trusts parents to bring a living soul into the world, stressing the fact that as a result of sexual relationship, a living soul is created, and impress upon children that they are trusted by God for this creation of children, and to keep God's trust they must keep their soul sacred in Christianity. The Christian church believes that parents should try to endeavor to see that boys and girls become accustomed to each other at an early age, under circumstances that are real and fine in their relations."

A Teacher Speaks
From the teacher's point of view, as well as that of a social worker, Justin Feltham advised parents that he felt it was necessary for them to look back and ask themselves if they are progressing with the subject in keeping with the progress made in other phases of life today, or are they stagnant?

He said, "Parents need to face these problems when they arise, and children should not grow up in fear of life's natural processes, that a most natural thing for a child to know is how he was created." He stressed the fact that he felt "it was important to give children a form of sex education in order to prevent them from unhappy marriages, and frustration and fear during their teens." He pointed out that "a teacher sees a greater variety of this problem of sex in young people than the individual parents themselves, and if he is to better teach the children, the parents must give the basic help at home in their children's understanding of the reproduction of life."

Informed Parents
Parents need heard Walter Meinikoff, president of PTA, also a graduate of West Chester State Teachers College and a former member of the science staff at New York University, who told them he felt the first fundamental things for parents to have is an understanding between themselves as to the manner in which they should instruct their children, and then proceed with love and understanding to acquaint them with the knowledge. Never evade issues by answering in a manner their children do not understand, and of prime importance in teaching children, parents must have a thorough knowledge themselves."

Fourth member of the panel was Dr. Harold A. Tattersall, a Barrett physician and the school's doctor, who told members that "sex development in children covered the ages of 3 to 18, and during these years children should be taught according to their capacity for understanding." He advised that "the average girl becomes sex conscious at around 6 and a boy around age 7, and from then on ill

Portland Womans Club To Assist School Nurse

Portland—While a special program was held for the Men's Night meeting of the Portland Woman's Club on Tuesday night in the social room of the Portland Baptist Church, the women managed to conduct a lot of business, too. The program featured Mrs. Marie Shepherd, of Englewood, N. J., who presented "Musical Hodgepodge." She was introduced by Mrs. Everett Hughes.

Special refreshments were served with Mrs. Francis Morhard and Mrs. Michael Pawloff presiding. Mrs. Wallace Hutcheon was chairman of the hostess committee which also included Mrs. Vernon Hallett, Mrs. Morhard, Mrs. Howard Ott, Mrs. Carl Kramer, Mrs. Warren Depuy, Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter, Mrs. Pawloff, Mrs. Harry Michael, Mrs. Bert Transue, Mrs. Robert Sanders and Miss Lillian McNamee.

At their business session, the club named a committee on child dental care to work with the school health nurse. Mrs. Raymond Scott and Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter were appointed.

Committees were also appointed by the president, Mrs. Ernest Courtney, to plan for the Mother-Daughter night to be held in the Spring; Dinner, Mrs. Arch Hartzell, Mrs. E. O. Reagle; program, Mrs. Raymond Scott, Mrs. Howard Ott and Mrs. Horace Rusting; decorations and favors, Mrs. Morris Hauser, Miss Alice Delp, Mrs. Carl Kramer.

A resolution praising the work of Miss Ruth Williams for the Girl Scouts the past four years was passed. Reservations for the county meeting must be sent to Mrs. Everett Hughes by October 19. It was announced. The meeting will be held at Stone Church. The literature group will meet Wednesday, November 14, at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Bert Transue, Mt. Bethel. All club members are invited.

New members welcomed were Mrs. Emma Correll, Mt. Bethel; Mrs. John Morekin, Miss Margaret Stine, Portland.

Son For Kneebones

A son was born Saturday afternoon at Easton Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Kneebone, of Pen Argil, Pa. Kneebone, who formerly worked in the business office of The Daily Record, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Strunk, of White Heron Lake.

maturity, sex information should be imparted to them.

"The parents' responsibilities in educating their children are supplemented by teachers, churches, and doctors," and from his observation during his years of practice in the township, he felt that "parents here are not giving their children a good sex education, that while sex education is basically a private matter between parent and child, it is also an individual matter because psychologically boys and girls are different."

Adult Study Group
"A general approach to boys and girls would be for the father to impart the knowledge to the son, the mother to the girl, and parents should never hesitate or be embarrassed to answer a child's question, but in answering it, give a positive approach. Do not stress guilt and sin, because sex is a natural sequence, a product of love, loyalty and religious ideals. The gradual maturing of the child needs a gradual education. Practice the rule of simple dissemination of information, but with this practice keep in mind your child's capacity for understanding and impart the information accordingly."

Following the lectures from panel members, a question and answer period followed, with pros and cons from parents on whether children should be taught sex in Barrett, and along with this, the possibility of making an adult course available to all members of the panel had stressed that the proper education of sex should start in the home. No decisions were reached during the meeting, but it was decided to give the problem further thought and study.

Every program is designed to elevate or inform, each committee has a specific community task.

Item four: Publicity chairmen and correspondents are getting better every year. Like Mrs. Russell Brush's account of the Barrett PTA, they give enough specific information to make the story interesting to a far wider audience than their own organization.

All of which is highly desirable from the readers' viewpoint and mine, but until we get elastic paper or big enough for a special section all our own, I'll keep yelling for room, and you'll keep yelling at me. But like the church school superintendent said about the over-crowding: "That's trouble we could stand more of."

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dickson

(Lawrence Studio)

Miss Welter Is Bride Of C. Dickson

The Poplar Valley Methodist Church was the scene of a pretty Fall wedding on Saturday, October 13th, when Shirley Welter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Welter Sr., of Cherry Valley, became the bride of Carl Dickson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dickson of Stroudsburg.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Keifer of Philadelphia, a former pastor of the Poplar Valley Church. Rev. Keifer was the officiating clergyman at the wedding of the bride's parents twenty years ago.

The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums while each pew was decorated with daisy chrysanthemums and white bows. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Warren Smith gave a piano recital of wedding music which included Sweet Mystery of Life, Because I Love You Truly, Tell Me Do You Love Me, and Oh Promise Me. She also sang Four-Leaf Clover and the chorus of True Love.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her waltz length gown was white tulle over taffeta with embroidered bodice. On her head she wore a tiara of iridescent sequin leaves. She carried a white pearl studded Bible with a white orchid and white streamers. The bride had as her maid of honor Ethel Resner of Snyder'sville, who was dressed in pale pink with a corsage of pink roses.

The groom chose as his best man Glenn Penzell of Beaver Valley. The ushers were Daniel Lee and Harry Shields, a brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride's mother wore Navy blue with teal blue accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore Eleanor blue with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Poplar Valley Social Hall. The hall was appropriately decorated.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickson left for a short wedding trip, after which they will reside, for the time being, with the bride's parents.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

"Where's Walter? For goodness sake, he didn't forget he's to dance this morning, did he?" "Oh my heavens, just look at Holt. He. Holt—your raking in the harvest?" "Here come the balloons. They look pretty, don't they? Oh-oh, that woman almost had one, but someone hit it and sent it sailing." "Have you seen our walking pumpkins in the Lingerie department? And what about Van Serfass dressed as an ear of corn?" "Oh gee, do you know what?—I baked a batch of cookies and forgot to bring them." "Anybody here seen Marcia Clapp, Phoebe Conrad and Bob Logan? They've promised to judge our displays." "Well, Bud, we always knew you were a farmer at heart—now you look the part." "What happened to Chris Pope's hair ribbon? She must have lost it in the rush!" "Anybody here who can carry a tune? Please come over to the Music Store to rehearse our Women's Day Song for the broadcast!" "I just wonder what motorists touring Stroudsburg think today when they see square dancing in front of the store?"

Those were just a few of the remarks heard Friday morning as all of us crowded around the big front doors, waiting for our two day celebration of Women's Days to get under way. It was hectic... it was noisy... it was the culmination (or maybe just the first act curtain) of a lot of hard work... but it was FUN.

Working at Wyckoff's is usually a pleasant experience... but it isn't every day that we see Holt Wyckoff, wearing false whiskers, blue jeans, a loud sport shirt, and a big straw hat, carrying a rake in one hand and a basket of roses in the other. It isn't every day he stands at the front door greeting customers with posies as well as smiles. And it isn't every day that our store's Papa, Mr. E. H. Wyckoff, looks on at such madcap activities with a smile from HERE to THREE and a trayful of oranges for such hard working gals as Cora Albertson, our Women's Days president, and Betty Bartholomew, her merchandising-minded vice president.

I've been with Wyckoff's five years now, and I've always loved the excitement of Women's Days. Yet, so far as I'm concerned, the displays may as well have been quite as imaginative as the year before, because harvest time is a bit more limited in scope than Never Never Land. But they were golden displays, crisp and beautiful. In our dress department two racks of specially priced dresses were united by a rainbow, at the end of which was a big pot of gold, representing the savings.

All of our displays were colorful and gay, I thought, and though our hard-working judges awarded first prize to Cosmetics, second to Lingerie, third to jewelry, and honorable mention to Candy and Toys there are many others, that also linger in my memory as being particularly lovely. Of course, the idea was to merchandise along with the decorations, which some of the departments, because of the nature of their wares, were unable to do. I loved the archway "Welcome to Floor Covering" which Van Serfass had painted, with every letter representing a corner, and Van's own costume which was whimsically imaginative.

While we're talking about Women's Days, I think we should also express our gratitude to Miss Bessie Gardner and Mrs. Hazel Drake who were kind enough to furnish us with songbooks containing "The Thanksgiving Song" after our radio appeal. We had an offer from a listener in Paradise, and one in Mount Pocono, but their names were not recorded inasmuch as we had previously received the other two copies. Thanks anyway—both for listening to the Shopper broadcast, and for the offer.

As for all the prize winners—well, those must wait until tomorrow since the column is being written before the contest deadline. It's been wonderful, that's all we can say—and just think! WOMEN'S DAYS WILL COME AGAIN NEXT YEAR.

Two Missionaries To Highlight Four-Day Convention At Church In East Stroudsburg

TWO VETERAN missionaries are speaking at the annual four-day missionary convention which opened yesterday at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, 336 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

Rev. C. C. Ryan, a missionary to French West Africa, will speak at 7:30 tonight. At that same time tomorrow and Wednesday nights, the message will be brought by Rev. Paul E. Carlson of Viet Nam, French Indo-China.

Mr. Ryan has the honor of locating the first mission station in French West Africa. He went to Africa in 1916 and labored for two years in the British Colony of Sierra Leone before making the four-months' survey of French Guinea which resulted in the choice of Baro as his base of operations.

During his seven terms on the field, Mr. Ryan has spent much time at Baro in evangelism, church work and with the Bible school.

Mr. Ryan also established the first mission station in the French Sudan in 1923 at Sikasso. Several years later, this station was the scene of the tragic deaths of three Alliance missionaries who became ill with yellow fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan also served in the forest country and among the cannibal tribesmen. During World War II, they were interned, first at their own station and later in French internment camps.

During his last term, Mr. Ryan acted as field chairman and also had charge of the Guinea Bible School, now located at Telekoro and responsible for training workers for several tribes.

Mr. Carlson arrived in French Indo-China in January, 1926, after seven months study of French at Paris. Having spent all of his four terms in Cochinchina, he is extremely well-known to both the Vietnamese and the French people throughout that region.

By native bus, horse cart, and sampan, he has traveled to practically every remote section of southern Indo-China and is the only missionary ever to preach on the islands of Phu Quoc and Hon Rai in the Gulf of Siam. He was also invited to preach to the prisoners in the Federal Prison at Poulo Condore.

The earlier years of his ministry were given largely to evangelism and the development of self-supporting churches. In later years, he has spent much time in translation work, short-term Bible schools and conference work, as well as a new system of hymn translation.

Upon his return to Indo-China, Mr. Carlson will be in charge of the Bible school at Tourane.

Rev. B. H. Hostetter, pastor of the East Stroudsburg C&MA Church, said the public is invited to attend these services.

The meeting is at 8 p.m.

There is a limited number of tickets. They may be purchased from members of the Holy Name Society and at any of the churches in the mission.

Marines Make Ball Plans

MARINE CORPS veterans and the Marine Corps League are making arrangements for their annual Birthday Ball.

It will be held Nov. 10 at the VFW Home to celebrate the U. S. Marine Corps' 181st anniversary.

Unbeaten ESSTC Eleven Notches Fifth Straight Victory

Merring Gallops 98 Yards In 42-13 Rout Of Mansfield

UNBEATEN, untied East Stroudsburg Teachers struck like a bolt of lightning on the opening kickoff and then went on to manhandle Mansfield STC 42-13 before 4,000 homecoming diehards on Normal Hill Saturday.

From the exploding 98-yard return of the initial toe-blast by East Stroudsburg's own Dick Merring to Gary Keller's 29-yard TD aerial to Ken Huber in the fourth quarter, the underlings of Gene Martin powered and passed their way to their fifth straight victory of the season.

The old and new who came to watch the current leaders of the Pennsylvania Teachers Football Conference liked very much what they saw as the Warriors tallied in every period and added a not often seen 36-yard field goal by Jim Oplinger to hand the visitors their second loss in four games.

In between Merring's picturesque gallop and the Keller to Huber toss this is what the old grads glimpsed:

1. Immediately following Merring's jaunt (exactly one minute, 12 seconds) Warren Davis, a demon on defense and offense, broke through and blocked a Mansfield punt attempted by Vince Sircus. The ball rolled backwards toward the Mounts goal where ever-alert Al Hoffman scooped it up on the one and stepped over for the second Eastburg TD.

2. Like after the first six-pointer fullback Denny Roth split the uprights following Hoffman's TD.

3. In the second period, Mansfield made the score respectable for the time being when the Mounts marched 57 yards in 11 plays, with Sircus diving over from the one to climax the drive with 11:21 left to halftime. John Zimmerman rolled out and dove over tackle for the extra point and Mansfield's 7th to go with the Warriors 14.

4. The Warriors came right back here and drove 82 yards in 7 plays as Keller picked up 26 yards end, Roth sliced nicely for 8. Roth against a beautiful cutback gained 15; Merring picked up 26 to the 3; and Keller on a fake run tossed to Hoffman in the end zone at the 3:50 mark for Eastburg's 3rd TD. Roth made it 21-7 when he creased the standards for the third straight time.

5. Oplinger made it 24-7 when he booted a 36-yard field goal that actually carried 44 yards from the point of the placement.

6. The Warriors upped the margin 30-7 shortly after the third period got started when they traveled 70 yards (more than 100 when you figure in two clipping penalties and an offside infraction) in 8 maneuvers with Roth bullying over from the one. Two key passes kept the sortie in motion as Guido Di-Torricce got away a 16-yarder to Ed Adams who later lateraled to Oplinger on the 17, and Roth tossed to Hoffman who was downed on the one to set up Denny's TD plunge.

7. Three quarters of the way in the third stanza, Martin's men upped the bulge to 36-7 when line-men Dick Davis intercepted a Mansfield pass on their 26 and aimed to the 16 before being brought down. Di-Torricce on two blasts off tackle went into paydirt. Again Roth's conversion attempt was blocked as the center linebacker came through to thwart the bid.

8. Martin's lads increased the spread to 42-6 right after the fourth final canto got under way. Taking over on the Mansfield 49, the Warriors in four plays were across the goal line again with Keller leading the parade, first passing to Mike Santelik for a first down on the 38 and then passing to Huber for the TD. German attempted the conversion after this one but again it was blocked.

9. Mansfield ended the day's scoring as the final Eastburg reserves were on the field. Sircus, the visitor's chief threat, going over with 1:32 left to culminate 35-yard advance following a Zimmerman interception of a Huber aerial.

Run-of-the-Day

Merring's once-in-a-blue-moon saunter was out of this world. The Warrior co-captain picked up the pigskin on the two swung diagonally toward the bleachers side and picked up four ESSTC blockers who formed a perfect stone wall for him to the Mansfield 43. Here Merring went on his own as he pulled away from the pack to go the rest of the way unmolested. One key block by Frank Krystiniak on the Eastburg 30 gave the Warrior speedster the necessary daylight to sweep out into.

Except for a brief moment in the second quarter, the play of the Warrior line, tutored by George Ockerhausen was something to behold. Guards Krystiniak and center Warren Davis, flankmen Ed Adams, Hoffman, Charley German and Mike Santelik, plus Joe Martin, Stan Searfoss and back Dom DeFranco, and practically every member of the shock troops gave a performance that will go down with the greatest in Warrior grid history.

Maryland Dog Paces Field At Split Rock

SPLIT ROCK, Pa., Oct. 21—With cloudless skies and abundant sunshine holding good for both days, the field trial of the Moravian College Field Trial Club on the grounds of Split Rock Club in the Poconos drew a large entry list of cocker spaniels and English springer spaniels Friday and yesterday. The trial was held under American Kennel Club rules.

Greatford Charlie, a black cocker owned by Pemberton Kennels, Fox Hill Farm, Fallston, Md., and handled by Larry MacQueen, placed first in the open all-age stake for cocker spaniels. Twenty two cockers ran in the first land series in this stake; nine were called back for the second series and came to the water test on Lake Harmony.

Greatford Charlie, 3 years old, was very keen and drove into the birds hard. He made a very difficult retrieve on the far side of the opposite course in the first series.

In the open all-age stake for English springer spaniels, which drew the large field of 30 dogs, Rivington Countryman, owned and handled by Dr. Samuel Milbank of New York City, placed first. Three land series were run. Rivington Countryman ran a consistent, forward race, moved speedily and responded effortlessly. On an especially difficult gully, he had very good location and polished manners.

The third and final stake, Gunner-handled, Saw Saughton's Samson, owned and handled by Robert McLean, Philadelphia publisher, placed first. His finds were executed with exemplary cleanliness and his birdfind score was excellent. Saughton's Samson maintained a lively pace, displaying much diligence and splendid manners.

Other prize winners: Cocker spaniels, open all-age stake; 2nd, F. T. Ch. Berol Lodge Drum Duff, owned by Berol Lodge Kennels of Chappaqua, N. Y.; 3rd, F. T. Berol Lodge Glen Garry, same owner, both handled by Blair Crowell; 4th, Cinar's Frost, owned by Cinar's Kennels, Arden, N. Y., and handled by Lionel J. Bond. A judges award of merit went to Berol Lodge Gay Lady, owned by Berol Lodge Kennels and handled by Blair Crowell.

English springer spaniels, open all-age stake; 2nd prize to F. T. Ch. Ludlovian Bruce of Greenfair, owned by Col. Joseph C. Quirk, Greenwich, Conn., handled by Larry MacQueen; 3rd, Staindrop Garry, owned by Robert McLean, Fort Washington, Penna., and handled by Arthur R. Eakin; 4th, Sam of Leeside, owned by E. S. Riley, Lumberville, Penna., and handled by Arthur R. Eakin.

Gunner-handled stake; 2nd prize to Greenfair's Whiffing, owned and handled by Carl W. Shattuck, Mountain Lakes, N. J.; 3rd, Sam of Leeside, E. S. Riley, Lumberville, owner handled.

The Moravian Club is the only field trial club for cocker and English spaniels on the U. S. college scene. Its founder and sponsor, Dr. J. Richard Jones of Quakertown, R. D., was field trial secretary.

Judges were Mrs. Evelyn Monte of New York City and Charles S. Goodall of Winnetka, Ill. Godwin Stevenson Jr., was captain of guns, and Ed Whitaker was chief of game stewards. The field trial committee was headed by Robert Moulton. Steuben glass trophies were awarded for the first three places in each stake.

Local Grid Teachers Among Select Threesome In Pennsylvania Boasting Of Perfect Marks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE 1956 college football season is half over and Pennsylvania can boast of only three unbeaten and untied teams. Two others are undefeated but once tied.

Lafayette, East Stroudsburg and Westminster are the all victorious teams, with F & M and Haverford the pair with only ties to mar their record.

Westminster ran its unbeaten string to 17 games Saturday—the streak includes four games this year—with an easy 28-0 victory over Geneva. Four different players scored in the victory.

Weingartner Stars
Lafayette swept to its fifth straight win although the Leopards met with surprising resistance from Bucknell before walking off the field with a 13-7 decision. Quarterback Karl Weingartner scored the winning TD from the one.

Co-captain Dick Merring's 98 yard scoring run with the opening kickoff fired East Stroudsburg to its fifth straight victory, a 42-13 romp over Mansfield. F. & M. scored its third win, 20-6 over Albright, helped by the running of sophomore halfback George Darran who sparked two second half TD drive. Dan Nauman's two conversions kept Haverford unbeaten, 14-13 over Johns Hopkins.

Dropped from the unbeaten class were Pennsylvania Military College and Washington and Jefferson. PMC, after four wins, was floored by Drexel 44-21, while W. & J. fell before Thiel 35-6.

Presbyterian Council Studying Move

By Paul Carlson
BUCK HILL FALLS—Presbyterian Council on Theological Education, currently in session at The Inn here, has been studying the need for changes in seminary curricula in light of today's problems.

Dr. Claude S. Conley, council chairman, has pointed out that the Church—and its professional leadership—is seeking to find new ways of interpreting the Christian faith in contemporary terms.

"The horse and buggy minister has gone forever," said Dr. Conley. "Particularly during the last 10 years, his successor has become not only a preacher and pastor, but a personal counselor, educator, organizer, administrator and community leader."

Dr. Conley noted that the seminaries, coordinated through the Council on Theological Education, "have given more and more attention to the task of equipping their graduates to understand the problems of modern humanity — personality crack-ups, family tensions, community conflicts, international strife, and to spell out Christianity's answer."

With an "accelerated" population growth, there has been a corresponding shortage of pastors, the council chairman disclosed.

"The increasing need for ministers cannot be met so long as the seminaries are able to prepare only 400 candidates a year—the present rate," he added.

In 1953, Dr. Conley reported, there were 8,603 congregations in the Presbyterian Church, USA, and "active" pastors numbered about 6,000. Moreover, the denomination is also facing the need for other professional leaders, such as directors of Christian education.

A bright spot on the horizon is the fact that a detailed study has been undertaken by the Board of Christian Education as to the supply of pastors needed for the Church's ministries, Dr. Conley said. The results of that study are expected to be available this fall, and recommendations based upon that survey will be presented to the 1957 General Assembly.

"Presbyterians will have to develop new church facilities for expanding suburbs," the council chairman said further. "At the same time, they will have to work out adjustments in center-city and rural churches.

"The movement of population toward cities will create communities of greater racial and cultural diversity, particularly in the inner city," Dr. Conley said further. "As people of different backgrounds associate in such neighborhoods, prejudices will break down—if churches supply encouragement and wisdom in keeping with the Christian faith."

Dr. Conley noted that the council has for the last two years been studying the matter of revising seminary curricula.

"From this will come radical changes in the schooling of ministers," he said. "The nine seminaries related to the Church are preparing to train the kind of pastor the future will require."

Party Affiliation Of County Voters By Districts Made Public

Poll Turnout Remains Big Question

By Leonard Randolph

IN 1952 Monroe County voters went to the polls in record-breaking numbers.

This year the county has already set a new record for the largest number of registered voters eligible to vote.

But how will these figures show up on November 6, the day of the election?

Judging from the general attitude of voters in most parts of the county during recent days Monroe will not measure up to its 1952 showing when an abnormally high percentage of registered voters actually found their way to the voting booths.

Some politicians seem to feel that voters this year are "apathetic" toward the election. That's the polite way of saying the voters just don't seem to give a damn.

Other observers counter with the question: Okay, if that's true, then why have so many more persons turned out to register this year?

No matter how many of those registered actually vote, it is evident now that the county has set a record for registration which is going to be tough to beat.

This year the total number of voters registered is 19,464. The total had been previously reported as 19,433 by court house clerks who discovered last Friday that an error in computation had lowered the score.

The additional 31 voters are all on the Democratic side. This raises total Democratic registration to 11,175 or 979 more than the party had signed up in 1952. Republican registrations total 7,977 or 294 more than in 1952.

The following is a complete breakdown of registered voters, by districts, by party affiliation and totals for each district:

Barrett — 721 D; 646 R; 17 Non-Partisan (NP); 8 Independent (I); 2 Prohibitionist (P); 1394 total.

Chestnut Hill — 442 D; 307 R; 12 NP; one I; 762 total.

Eastern Coolbaugh — 63 D; 33 R; 2 NP; one I; 99 total. Western Coolbaugh — 276 D; 210 R; one NP; 2 I; 489 total.

Delaware Water Gap — 150 D; 161 R; 9 NP; 2 I; 322 total.

East Stroudsburg — First, 357 D; 318 R; 4 NP; 6 I; 685 total. Second, 288 D; 216 R; 10 NP; 2 I; 516 total. Third, 342 D; 163 R; 5 NP; one I; 511 total. Fourth, 328 D; 171 R; 7 NP; 4 I; 510 total. Fifth, 376 D; 175 R; 4 NP; one I; 556 total. Sixth, 425 D; 188 R; 5 NP; 3 I; 621 total.
